

Pathways to Permanency

APPROACH: The Pathways to Permanency Program (P2P) offers services to help provide adoptive and foster families with a nurturing and stable environment. The P2P model of service centers on taking into account the specific needs of foster/adoptive children and their families as well as the overarching impact of trauma. These services are provided by clinicians with extensive experience working with childhood trauma and foster care and adoption related issues. Consultation services are flexible and developed around the specific needs of each family.

CAREGIVER CONSULTATION SERVICES: Our caregiver consultation services may be used to assist families with:

- Determining whether becoming a foster or adoptive parent is right for your family.
- Deciding whether a specific child placement is a good match for your family.
- Parenting a child with a history of trauma.
- Managing the complexities of relationships with birth families, service providers, and previous caregivers.
- Preparing siblings for the arrival of a new foster or adoptive child and/or addressing challenges that may arise between siblings.
- Developing trauma-informed strategies for managing difficult behavior.

SPECIALIZED SUPPORT SERVICES: Specialized support services may be provided in the context of family consultation including:

- Supporting a child and family with the transitions from a residential placement to a foster/pre-adoptive home or foster home to a pre-adoptive home.
- Supporting reunification of child/children from foster or residential care back to the birth family.
- Working with siblings who are being reunited.
- Enhancing bonding and attachment between caregivers and their children.

Pathways to Permanency

Pathways to Permanency services are provided by a specialized team of clinicians from across JRI, each with their own connections to foster care and adoption. All of our clinicians have been trained in the Attachment, Regulation and Competency (ARC) model and take a trauma-informed approach to their work with families.

Morganne Crouser, LICSW has been working with foster and adoptive families since 2005, and has been a licensed foster parent since 2007. They received their Masters in Social Work from the University of Vermont where they focused their studies on the treatment of complex trauma. Morganne enjoys playing board games with families – both therapeutically and at home.

Nisaly Figueroa offers services in both English and Spanish. She has been working with foster and adoptive families through a variety of roles since 2014, and received her Masters in Mental Health Counseling from Bay Path University. Nisaly has specialized post-graduate training in early childhood mental health. Her favorite thing to do outside of work is play video games.

Shauna Hynes, LMHC achieved her Masters in Mental Health Counseling from Salem State University, concentrating in Marriage and Family Therapy. An adoptive child herself, Shauna brings a TF-CBT certification and training in Triple P to her work with foster and adoptive families. Outside of sessions, she loves music and being outdoors.

Deresa Jones has been helping families navigate foster care and adoption since 2008. She earned her M.Ed in Mental Health Counseling from Cambridge College and specializes in helping parents to support their children through the tough transitions that can come with foster care and adoption. Deresa loves traveling and movies.

Jeanette Moreau holds a MSW from Simmons University and a M.Ed in School Counseling from Rivier University. She has been working with foster and adoptive families since 2010, and brings training in both SMART and TF-CBT to her work. She lives with her two adoptive daughters on their farm, along with a number of dogs, cats, goats, chickens and horses.

Marcie Sabin has been working with foster and adoptive families in both residential and community based settings since 2015. She completed her Masters in Psychology at Perdue University and has received training on supporting adoptive families. When not supporting the families she works with, Marcie can be found off on new adventures with her own family.

Lizzie Sangrey earned her Masters in Social Work at Simmons University. In addition to growing up with foster siblings from Burma, Lizzie has previously been a foster care case manager and has been working with foster and adoptive families since 2017. Outside of her work with families, Lizzie enjoys running and has completed a marathon and many half marathons.
