

Belonging.

Imagine raising your children in a supportive, fully trauma-informed neighborhood.

For foster, adoptive and kinship families, it's not just an affordable place to live -- it's a warm, welcoming community where you'll feel understood, supported, and a connection with neighbors and staff.

At Treehouse, we're about:

Kids
Family
Belonging
Purpose
Connection
Engagement
Support
Contributing Community

“I moved to Treehouse as a single, adoptive parent because I realized I needed community, connection and support. I found it all at Treehouse. We support each other through the good and hard times.”

-- Treehouse Community Member

The Treehouse community welcomes three generations to invest in each other. Kids who have lived in foster care thrive in an entire neighborhood dedicated to their well-being. Families are supported. Older adults find purpose as honorary grandparents.
